Like a Force of Nature!

3 Ways to crown your day

Why is it that these days you can't tell whether someone's terrific smile is a gift of nature or has been revitalized by dentistry? It's because fabulous restorative materials like porcelains and ceramics create crowns that are so beautiful and translucent that they look just like normal enamel. They also resist chipping, staining, and cracks, and are strong enough to withstand natural biting pressure.

- Cover damaged teeth to protect and strengthen them.
- Fill spaces from tooth loss due to decay, genetics, or an accident. This option prevents other teeth from drifting and altering your ability to chew, speak, and socialize.
- Create a permanent new tooth by incorporating a single crown onto the root of dental implant. Several crowns can be attached to an implant bridge, and implants can also be used to secure a denture. Dentures are more secure and comfortable, and the bone loss that normally accompanies the loss of a tooth is prevented.

Contemporary natural looking crowns used with dental implants and crown and bridge restorations can shine up your smile and re-generate your confidence! Call to book a free consultation.
